THE REPLACEMENT TAPES

Come explore a wild new idea in which we make the play and you perform it.

Put on a pair of headphones and be a part of the wild world of the WACs (Women's Auxiliary Corps). Help out as their founder attempts to petition D.C. for full pay for all women who served. A mostly-historically accurate retelling of the founding of the WACs (with a few lies to keep you guessing) as the Rudes investigate service, cabaret, and personal joy, stolen from a plot by O. Henry, and updated to include more sex, dancing, and strange dangers.
